

Little Lambs Preschool is an instrument of God's love that can help a child grow through spiritual, social, emotional, physical, and intellectual development. We offer a positive atmosphere that fosters warmth and joyful learning.

How do we do it?

Intellectual Development

Our 2-, 3-, and 4-year-old students begin developing problem-solving skills through play, exploration, and hands-on learning. From an early age, they begin learning to think creatively and make choices.

Social Development

Through play and daily interactions, our young students learn how to cooperate, share, communicate, and develop positive relationships with others. At Little Lambs, we focus on helping our youngest students begin building the social skills they need to make friends, work together, and care for others.

Emotional Development

Through caring guidance and supportive relationships, our young students begin learning to recognize their feelings and develop healthy ways to manage them by comforting and calming themselves, coping with frustration and expressing their feelings appropriately.

Spiritual Development

Our littlest lambs begin developing their spiritual lives by learning about God's love, prayer, kindness, and faith. Through age-appropriate Bible lessons, songs, and daily Christian activities, our young students begin building a foundation of faith.

Physical Development

At Little Lambs, children develop important physical skills—including coordination, balance, strength, and gross motor skills—through active play and hands-on learning. Each day provides opportunities for children to run, jump, climb, create, and explore as they build confidence and physical abilities.
